

Modern Slavery Position Statement

As a global organization, we are committed to improving our practices to combat slavery and human trafficking. We all have a responsibility to be alert to the risks, however small, in our business and in the wider supply chain systems. We have committed resources to implement and enforce effective systems and controls to detect and prevent instances of slavery or human trafficking in our supply chains and our business. We further expect our employees to report concerns in order that management can take appropriate steps to act upon them.

We are a leading global tire manufacturer and top provider of quality products in the value tire segment. Our head office is in Qingdao, China. The Group has over 17,000 employees worldwide and operate globally. We are committed to seeking to ensure that there is no modern slavery or human trafficking in our supply chains or in any part of our business. Our Modern Slavery Position Statement reflects our commitment to acting ethically and with integrity in all our business relationships and to implementing and enforcing effective systems and controls to ensure slavery and human trafficking is not taking place anywhere in our supply chains and our organization. We are committed to raising awareness of our policy to ensure understanding of the risks of modern slavery and human trafficking in our supply chains and our business. Our Core Values set out our intentions and expectations regarding integrity and behaviors.

As part of our initiative to identify and mitigate risk, we are reviewing systems to:

- Identify and assess potential risk areas in our supply chain
- Mitigate the risk of slavery and human trafficking occurring in our supply chains
- Ensure whistle blowers are protected in accordance with the Whistleblowing Policy

We seek to operate zero tolerance to slavery and human trafficking to ensure all those in our supply chain and contractors understand the importance of this issue to us and that they comply with our values.

The Executive Management Team have day to day responsibility for reviewing systems and taking appropriate steps to ensure the company's practices are effective in countering slavery and human trafficking.

To assess the effectiveness of our policies and practices, we will be implementing key performance indicators (KPIs), including a system to audit a sample of existing key suppliers for awareness of and compliance with the Modern Slavery Act 2015.

Following a review of the effectiveness of the steps we are taking this year to ensure that there is no slavery or human trafficking in our supply chains we intend to take the following further steps to combat slavery and human trafficking:

- As part of our contracting processes with suppliers, to negotiate the inclusion of a requirement to comply with all applicable anti-slavery and human trafficking laws, statutes, regulations and codes from time to time in force including but not limited to the Modern Slavery Act 2015.
- Develop and implement awareness training for relevant employees on the recognition and mitigation of slavery and human trafficking.
